Monday, 16 November 2009

REDACCION / TORONTO /

Esta es la lista de los 34 nominados para el programa del 2009 "10 most influential Hispanic Canadians". Los nominados, en su gran mayoría confirmados para asistir, provienen de 7 provincias representando 10 países de origen. Este viernes se anunciarán los resultados en una recepción con 300 personas. El Ministro de Políticas Extranjeras de Canadá (Américas), Peter Kent, atenderá el evento.

Este programa demuestra las contribuciones positivas de los hispanos a Canadá. Galardonados anteriores incluyen a investigadores de talla mundial, activistas, ejecutivos y filántropos. Los jurados a cargo de la selección incluyen galardonados anteriores (2007 y 2008), y representantes de organizaciones canadienses e hispanas. Los resultados están siendo auditados por un abogado independiente.

Asistentes confirmados incluyen exportadores, trabajadores comunitarios, profesores, oficiales gubernamentales, diplomáticos, prensa hispana y canadiense, y ejecutivos de más de 22 corporaciones como Nestle Canada - confectionary (viene su presidente), KPMG, Air Canada, Deloitte, Knoll, IBM y otros. Los asistentes recibirán el manual con las últimas estadísticas de los hispanos en Canadá (donde vivimos, tendencias laborales y de empleo, educación, religión, bienes raíces, religión, estado marital, etc.). Este manual es presentado por la Asociación de Empresarios Hispanos. Los asistentes podrán participar en una rifa valorada en $1.000. Esta también la oferta de dos becas de $10.000 cada una para estudiantes interesados en estudios con el the Canadian Law Enforcement College.
